

How much information about the shape and the location of a compact region in the Euclidean space can we extract from the knowledge of the Euler characteristics of any (affine) hyperplane section of this region? I will present a beautiful result of Pierre Schapira which states that this knowledge completely determines the region. Time permitting, I will also hint at the eight hundred pound gorilla hiding behind this result.