

The Asian Indian Classical Music Society
52318 North Tally Ho Drive, South Bend, IN 46635

A concert of Indian instrumental classical music:
Sarod

Pandit Brij Narayan

accompanied by

Abhijit Banerjee
on the tabla

Sunday, November 4, 2007, 7:30 p.m.

At the Auditorium, Hesburgh Center for International Studies
University of Notre Dame

Sponsored by:

The Asian Indian Classical Music Society of Michiana
The Kroc Institute
International Student Services and Activities, Notre Dame

Tickets:

General Admission: $10 AICMS Members and ND/SMC faculty: $5
Students: FREE

PANDIT BRIJ NARAYAN is eldest son of the world-renowned Sarangi maestro, Pandit Ram Narayan. His inimitable style is a remarkable fusion of a great command of tonality, constant imagination in the melodic structure, and improvisation in rhythms. His special style is an art that perfectly combines dreams and aesthetic concern, poetry and flamboyance. He is a recipient of several awards including The Dagar Gharana Award from the Mewar Foundation in 1996. He has composed music for the film Bengali Night directed by Nicholas Klotz, and released several CDs and cassettes

Contact: Amitava Dutt (2730928) or Umesh Garg (2722957)