WEBSITE GRADING

Beginning February 12th, there are three items which need to be posted on your websites and kept up to date each week:

1. TTS - Please keep your TTS.xls files up to date and posted on your websites.
2. PDRs - The weekly PDRs given by your group, even those which are not presented to the entire class, need to be posted in an organized form.
3. Group updates, breakthroughs, ideas, etc. - Any pertinent information with regard to your group's activity may be posted.

These items need to be posted and accessible by Tuesday of every week. Sometime on Tuesday, I will look through and make sure that these items are available. In order to facilitate my search for the above items, please make your website easy to navigate!

Every other week (beginning February 12th), I will be making comments and suggestions to the groups concerning their website. These comments will be emailed to your group's ndID and should serve as a good source of feedback on your progress. Please keep your eyes open for these emails.

NOTE: In order to avoid confusion on which days should be included in the TTS weeks, please begin the weeks on Tuesday and end them on Monday, thus giving you Monday afternoon to tabulate all hours worked and post them online for the Tuesday deadline. For example, Week 4 runs from Feb. 5th to Feb 11th. Your TTS file online should include Week 4 when I check on Feb. 12th.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the websites or TTS, please feel free to contact me (Michael Giordano) at mgiordan@nd.edu .
