

J|A|C|S F A C T S

Journal of the American Chemical Society, 1879 – 2005

<http://pubs.acs.org/JACS>

Geographic Distribution of Published JACS Authors, 2005

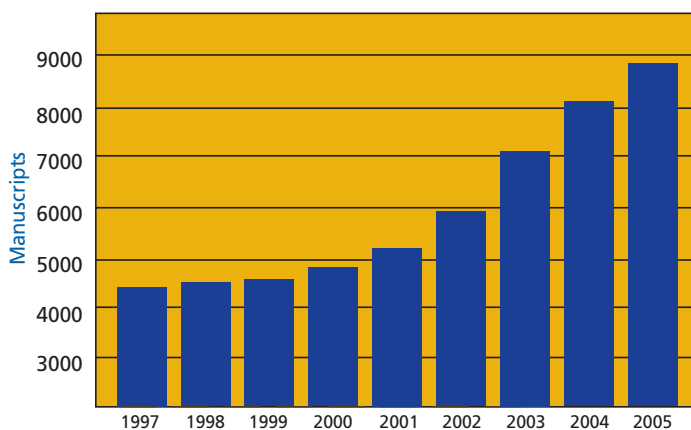

JACS draws authors from a worldwide community of researchers exploring all fields of chemistry

The Global Reach of JACS

- JACS is delivered by Internet subscriptions to chemists around the globe in 73 countries
- JACS readership has increased with the introduction of the ACS Journal Archives which allows subscribers to access every paper ever published in JACS
- During the month of September 2005, JACS received 1,241,777 full-text COUNTER-compliant Web views²

Rapid Growth in Manuscript Submissions

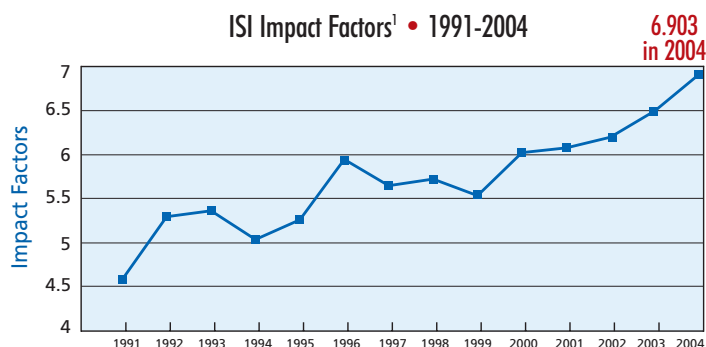

ACS Offers State of the Art Publishing in JACS

- Authors submit their manuscripts using the ACS Paragon System and review electronic galley proofs via the Internet
- JACS does not have page charges
- JACS publishes color at no cost to the author
- JACS Web Edition provides PDF and HTML formats, Table of Content Alerts, Articles ASAP, Enhanced Graphics and ChemPort Reference Linking

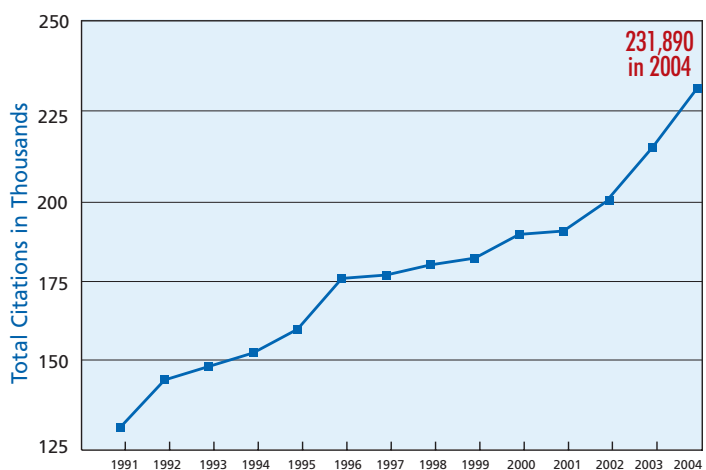

JACS is the Preeminent Journal in Chemistry

- JACS is ranked first among chemistry journals, leading the field with 231,890 citations which is more than three times the amount of citations earned by the nearest ranked journal¹
- JACS covers fundamental research in all areas of chemistry in 51 issues per year
- Author submissions to JACS have increased 70% in the last four years
- JACS received 4,845 Communications and 3,973 Articles in 2005
- JACS published 1,718 Communications and 1,672 Articles in 2005
- In 2005, JACS received 11,788,734 full-text COUNTER-compliant Web views²

ISI Impact Factors¹ • 1991-2004

ISI Total Citations¹ • 1991-2004

¹ ISI Journal Citation Reports®, 2004

² COUNTER is the international initiative with the goal of achieving more consistent measurement of online usage statistics

³ Based on 2005 page counts and pricing for institutional print subscriptions

ACS PUBLICATIONS
HIGH QUALITY. HIGH IMPACT.