Bullwinkle's Is Open Again

Campus Events

SUB Movie: Saw II

You know the deal

SUB is on a roll. After bringing Wedding Crashers to us last week (I hope they realized you couldn't walk ten feet on this campus without realizing that somebody already had it on DVD), they bring us a craptastic sequel. Hey, the Insider really shouldn't blame the guys over at SUB, since they're good guys. But, I think it's Hollywood's fault. Does the world really need a sequel to "Big Momma's House"?

South Beach Nightclub

Fri. Jan. 27, Legends Nightclub

All the things South Beach has to offer, minus the abundance of attractive women, fake boobs, warm weather, beautiful beaches, underage drinking, academic freedom, etc.

Overheard in Dillon

"My stache is going to be hairier than Kevin Federline's butt. Except not as well trimmed."

Hey, Insider! I saw you boys were giving examples of sweet 'staches. Did you forget about your old pal, Jimmy Walker?!? I hope not. Oh, and I love that Bullwinkle's brought back the breakfast sandwich. Thanks!

Jimmy, we couldn't forget you. Here it goes:

Name: Jimmy Walker
Occupation: World's #1 Dad
Hobbies: Attending pep rallies, football games, pig roasts, studying 18th century Agrarian business, "Passions"
Mustache Name: The Arch
Makes you look like: Much like Charlie Weis, a true one-in-a-million look
Grade: A+

Stache Bash Extravaganza

Sat. Feb. 11th, Beacon Bowl $10 tickets

The date of the dance might have changed, but the significance of it has not. We passed out the sponsorship forms the other day, so here's the deal. You get someone to pledge money for a good cause - Testicular Cancer, or should we say the fight against - for every day that you don't shave or just an amount. For added incentive, we've decided to give free dance tickets to those who raise $50 or more. So it's worth it. Two years ago, Dillon raised over $10,000. This year we're looking for more. The dates been set and everything is finally coming together, so skip the razor and grow out those 'staches and beards. The Keoughroos have a dance that weekend too, but don't worry Dillonites, girls will be flocking at the chance to go to this dance, even if you do end up looking like John Walker Lynn. Oh, and President Paul Jacobs is sporting a little youngster 'stache and damn, does it look good. If you ask him nicely, he may let you pet it.
