

Big Red Insider

Volume: Please, I beg, open up Bullwinkle's

Beat Purdue-chbags

We're back! Hope you enjoyed the first edition of the Big Red Insider as much as Charlie Weis enjoys making kids' dreams come true. From past experience, the Insider, no matter how funny or lame, makes the time fly by when you're dropping bombs over the White House.

Campus Events

Welsh Family's "Block Party for the Big Easy"

Thurs. Sept 29, 8pm-12am Recker's Patio
The lovely ladies at Welsh Family are putting on a fundraiser for the hurricane relief efforts. It's supposed to have carnival games and carnival food. When girl's dorms plan events, you know they're fantastic, so drop whatever you were planning to do and go to this.

Pangborn Hall's Phox Phire

Thurs. Oct. 13 9pm-11pm Holy Cross Hill
Yes, it's true, Pangborn Hall won the Women's Hall of the Year for this signature event. The one bright side of this event is that each dorm brings a mascot of our rival schools to burn in a fire and whoever has the best mascot, "will get their very own place in Pangborn history!". If anyone wants to "Volunteer" (Tennessee) to make a mascot to burn, come to Hall Government. We're thinking about burning a Mormon (BYU), but that might not go over well. And yes, we've heard of the Trojan (USC) condom one before. And no, it's not going to happen.

Overheard in Dillon

"There's three things I don't give up: Beers, cheeseburgers, and footballs!"

- Tom Bradley, after recovering a fumble against Keenan

Section of the Week

Section Sullivan for keeping it under control at all times. Good work guys!!!

Big Red Insider Prediction

-XXXL

-XXL

As for scores 37-31 Irish

Dorm News

Dillon Hall Football vs. Alumni

Sun. Oct 2, 3pm Stepan Fields

The Dillon Hall football team had a thrilling win over Keenan last week in which they defeated the ugliest dorm on campus 13-8. Now it's time to take on our ugly, redheaded step-child, Alumni Hall. We're still looking for as many guys as possible to come out to the game, so plan on getting your brunch on and then getting your game on. If being our rival is not enough incentive to come out on Sunday, just remember these are the same guys who scream every time the word 'alumni' is mentioned at Pep Rallies.

Big Red Dawg Dance

Sat. Oct. 8, 10:30pm $15 Tix (Thurs.-Tues.)

Expect to hear a bunch of news about this one over the next week or so. The theme this year is "Diamonds are Forever", or as the kids call it, "Dimnds r 4evr". We're not talking the Kanye West-George Bush hates black people song, we're talking about the James Bond flick. Get to Goodwill as fast as you can and start picking out James Bond apparel. If you want to dress like a rapper, that's fine too, just be forewarned you will look like a tool. Keough has a dance and Alumni guys will also be looking for dates (although there's an excellent chance Alumni guys will be going with each other), so plan ahead gents.

Dillon/Alumni Rivalry Week

All next week

For the past few months, Dillon and Alumni administrations, along with FEMA, have been meeting with each other to plan the best way to see who the better dorm is. Some contests will test stamina, others will test intelligence. Some will test creativity, others will test luck. Here's a preliminary list of activities:

- Hot dog eating contest (stamina)
- Spelling bee (intelligence)
- Touchdown celebration contest (creativity)
- Rock, Paper, Scissors (Luck)
- Pog contest (???)
- Fr. Doyle vs. Fr. George staring contest (badassness)

Be on the lookout for time and places as the week progresses.