

Big Red Insider

Volume: 3rd Floor Crew

Support Bullwinkles

Men of Dillon! It's a sad thing, but this will probably be the last Insider of the calendar year. But don't worry, we'll be back next semester, delivering all the news fit to print (and several more Photoshopped pictures as well). The semester is winding down, but Dillon Hall is heating up! And we're not talking about those damn radiators! Tons of events are planned to end the semester on a good note. See you next year!

Campus Events Better than Ezra

Fri. Dec. 2, 8pm Stepan Center

Friday night is shaping up to be one of the best nights of the year. A band with real songs that they wrote themselves is coming to the Stepan Center this weekend. And we all know that nothing says "Welcome to Notre Dame" more than "Actually sir, you'll be playing at that building over there." The best thing about this concert is that it shouldn't interfere with you attending the dance and if it does, well, we didn't want you coming anyway. See Taylor Montgomery or Chris Lund for tickets.

Overheard In Dillon

"My mouth tastes like gonorrhoea."

-John Rompf, after taking a bite of a uncooked sweet potato

Overheard by an Stanford graduate

"History will record Dec. 3, 2004, as the day that Notre Dame football died. The Fighting Irish will still fight. The gold helmets will still reflect the Golden Dome. But the House That Rockne Built, the monolith that bestrode the sport for eight decades, expired Friday when Urban Meyer turned down Notre Dame to go to Florida."

-Ivan Maisel, Espn.com, 12/3/04

Big Red Insider Separated at Birth

Ludacris

Former ND Safety
Freddie Parish

Dorm News

Mr. Dillon Competition

Thurs. Dec. 1, 9:30pm 24-hour lounge

Write witty questionnaire answers? Can drink 8 oz. of heavy cream and eat 8 saltines in under a minute? Want to run around Dillon Hall with a helmet on? Then you might be interested in becoming the next Mr. Dillon. Questionnaires were probably due before this Insider was put up, but even if you didn't make the cut, this event rocks. Last year Mansour Ourasanah beat out James Bent in an emotional, profanity-laced French rap. The obstacle course is on Thursday night, with the final selection of Mr. Dillon at the Merry Luda-Christmas Dance on Friday night. Speaking of which...

Merry Luda-Christmas Dance

Fri. Dec. 2, 10:30pm-1:30am (Dates arrive at 9:30)....Dance Tix $15 available in 354/310

Section 5.13 of "Du Lac: A Guide to (a boring) Student Life" states that "Each residence hall shall have at least one, if not more, hip-hop dances each year." Well guys, here it is. Dust off that do-rag and bling you've been hiding in your wardrobe and feel the fever that will be the Merry Luda-Christmas Dance. Tickets are on sale, s'more bites have been ordered, sweet shirts are due on Thursday evening, and your favorite Resident Assistant, Justin Doyle, is putting together his own "NOW That's What I Call Music! Vol. 3,343". This dance will be beyond sweet, so get your tickets ASAP!!!

Big Red Shamrock

Wed. Dec. 6, 4:30 or so...24-hour lounge

Kudos to the Dillon freshmen who spearheaded this. It may just have been because they had a crush on a McGlenn freshman and figured this was a good way to get something started. But hey, who's judging? This service project (to the Insider's understanding - wrapping presents for St. Ad's kids and eating cookies) is a great way to celebrate the end of classes and the start of study (procrastination) days. Check it out.

LUDA-CHRISTMAS DANCE
SHIRTS WILL BE AVAILABLE IN 354 ON THURSDAY NIGHT.
GO TO THE DANCE!!!!