

Rethinking Marxism* Submission Checklist

Your manuscript cannot be processed unless the following elements are provided:

- All elements of the submission are complete and formatted according to RM conventions (see Authors' Guidelines for details)
- A short (2-3 sentence) autobiographical statement is provided for the contributor notes section
- A current postal address and an email address (when available) are provided

You should be aware of the following:

- Your manuscript will be copyedited. Changes will be made to conform to RM conventions and, where necessary, to improve clarity and readability.
- You will receive page proofs. Please correct all printer errors. Please avoid changing or rewriting your manuscript at this stage.
- You will be notified that proofs are on their way approximately 5 weeks before they arrive. Please make sure that we have current addresses where you can be reached at that stage.
- You must return the proofs by the deadline given in the letter that accompanies the proofs. Any remaining errors cannot be corrected after proofs have been returned to the publisher.
- You will receive one complimentary copy of the issue in which your submission appears.
