

WVFI Fall 2009 Show Schedule

Monday Tuesday Wednesday Thursday Friday Saturday Sunday

Monday

\(Top\)

2:00p – 3:00p

Frequent Jams

Brooks Smith, Steve Lagree

Steve and Brooks are DJs Mashup and Mixx-Dogg, bringing you the funk from some sort of otherworldly planet that speaks a language only the ass can understand. Even if your brains are bewildered by their stream-of-consciousness show patter and streaming hits, your butt will know wha'ppen and move to the groove.

4:00p – 5:00p

Make Time for Texas

Christopher Damian, Audrey Vitter

As native Texans, we know it's strange to be in a place where Summer can be 50 degrees and 2-stepping is unheard of. So spend time with 2 Texans. We say "ya'll" and love our country music. Make time for Texas as we mix southern favorites with universal hits.

5:00p – 6:30p

The Mothership Connection

William Clarke, Grant Wycliff

We're beaming all the greatest funk, soul, R & B, and more straight to your eardrums.

6:30p – 7:00p

T Time, with Ted and Tommy

Tommy Demetrio, Ted Heilbron

7:00p – 7:30p

Around the Dome

Eric Prister, Colin Rich, Adam Prister, Nick Anderson

Around the Dome will feature up to four panelists in a round-table style discussion about both current and other sports topics from around the nation and on campus.

7:30p – 9:00p

Music Director Show

Brooke Healy, Mark Flanagan, Gwen Rugg, Nicolle Walking

9:00p – 10:30p

(Title)

Jackie Burke, Kurt Jung

10:30p – 12:00a

James Westfall and Doctor Kenneth Noisewater in the Booth

Bryant Welters, Paul Leuck

Hip/Hop with a mix of Indie rock and light banter. We play music that we feel is enjoyable to our family and friends

12:00a – 1:45a

Dunno yet...

Casey Lupetin, Mary Myers

We're back from Italia and ready for some fun in the studio. With tastes ranging from calm and quiet to rocking electronics, our eclectic playlists will keep listeners guessing. And with an emphasis on requests from our faithful audience, we'll try to play anything and everything you throw our way. So...Va Bene!

Tuesday

\(Top\)

9:00a – 10:00a

(Title)
DJs

11:00a – 12:00p

The Music Makers
Jacqueline Patz

This show is for anyone who truly loves music. Listen to the words, listen to the beats, listen to the harmonies. Listen to what you love! Life is colorless without a little music to brighten it up.

"We are the music makers, and we are the dreamers of dreams."
-Willy Wonka

12:00p – 1:00p

(Title)
Beth Caulfield

4:00p – 5:00p

Brandon & Tom in the Morning
Tom Bounds, Brandon Payne

Start your day off right with this poppin' fresh style-crazed invasion of the grooviest in talk and college rock radio. Featuring stunning musical artistry, the finest in invigorated discourse, and all the bells and whistles you could hope for in the deep down dirges of your heart.

Part of your complete breakfast.

(We're going to have a sweet poster as well!)

5:00p – 6:30p

Captain Foodstamp Jones and Baby in a tux in north central Indiana
Ryan Commins, Brendan Apfeld

We are two guys and we'll play some sweet tunes. We also happen to go to school in North Central Indiana

6:30p – 7:00p

The Stupidity Hour

Jimmy Crivella, Ryan Bahniuk, Patrick Kozak, Brian Monson

The Stupidity Hour will discuss anybody who does something completely idiotic. Focusing on athletes and other sports stories, but also including plenty politics and celebrity talk, the show will mock any idiotic move as well as debate popular topics.

7:00p – 7:30p

Three and Out

Charles Campisi, Ryan McSweeney, John Harig

Sports Talk Show that discusses major current sports news

7:30p – 9:00p

AOGC (temporary title)

ElizaBETH Neiman, SANTIago Garces

In theory, we would both be playing some cool tunes, some forgotten favorites, to provide a soundtrack to the happiness, sadness, fear, anticipation, and celebrations of ourselves and our listeners. DJs cannot promise that their conversations between songs will make sense, but we can assure entertainment. Perhaps some confusion as well. Possible topics of discussion include Irish slang, golf cart drivers, and beards.

9:00p – 10:30p

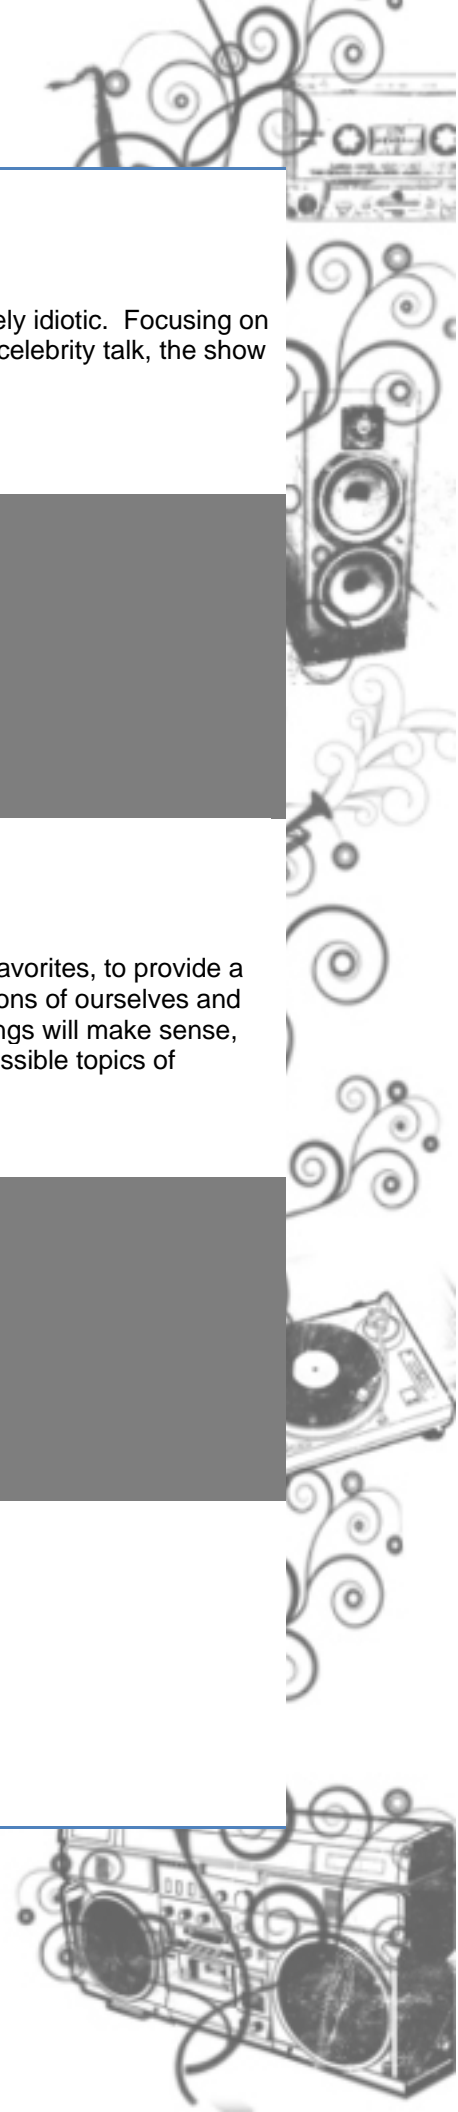

(Title)

Chris Lanus, Kerry Pecho, John Walsh

10:30p – 12:00a

(Title)

Ellen Rolfes

12:00a – 1:45a

The Steezy Hour

DJ Dome

The Steezy Hour is an hour of feel-good, laid-back indie rock/reggae/electronica/whatever sounds good.

Wednesday

(Top)

12:00p – 1:00p

(Title)

DJs

3:00p – 4:00p

The coX-Files

Abby Cox, Kaitlin Files

"So you believe in these kinds of things?"
"Let's just say I want to believe."

The coX-Files believe in bringing good music to the people. Join us as we take a trip back through the 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s and today with stops at classic rock, pure funk, bumping hip hop, and Britney

4:00p – 5:00p

(Title)

Mark Anthony Rosa

5:00p – 6:30p

Then and Now

Tim Ryan

The epic awesomeness of last year continues, as I, Tim Ryan, return to host Then and Now, featuring the best music of today and the classic rock that inspired it. Can you dig it?

6:30p – 7:00p

The Lumberjack Slam

Paul Hotovy

Tesh-esque information to enrich your life for minutes to come. Random music, historical audio clips, comedy clips, crazy clips, clipper ships and more....

7:00p – 7:30p

Second and Short

Andrew Kovach, Jimi Lucas

Second and Short, broadcast on WVFI since 2008, is a half hour sports show co-hosted by seniors Andrew Kovach and Jimi Lucas. Borrowing its title from the down and yardage in a football game where "anything can happen," Andrew and Jimi can discuss a wide variety of events and stories in the sports world. The co-hosts will give a fair assessment of Notre Dame athletics from the student's perspective while also giving their takes on what is going on in the rest of the sports world.

7:30p – 9:00p

Somewhere, Somewhen

Sean Hoban, Daniel, John Sportiello

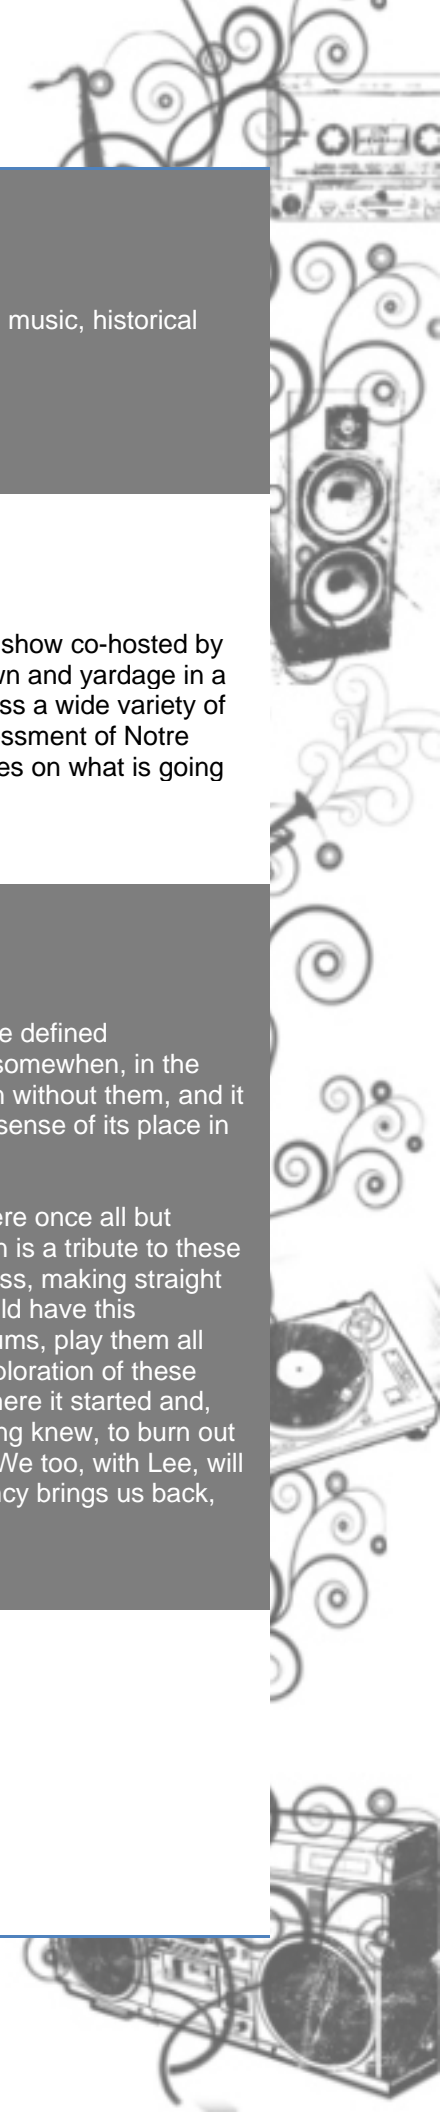

No changes, Lee notes, are permanent--but change is. Albums that once defined generations, for example, are today all but forgotten--lost, somewhere, somewhen, in the labyrinthine halls of the music vault of history. Our generation has grown without them, and it is consequently a generation without poets. Without wisdom. Without a sense of its place in space or time.

But though no changes are permanent, change is: those albums that were once all but forgotten were fated to be rediscovered in time. Somewhere, Somewhen is a tribute to these albums that once defined generations. More, it is a voice in the wilderness, making straight the way of poetry and wisdom once more. Somewhere, Somewhen would have this generation too learn its place in space and time: it would play these albums, play them all and play them through. It would have this generation not cease from exploration of these classics--such that, with Eliot, the end of its exploring will be to arrive where it started and, even if it kills us, to know the place for the first time. For it is better, Young knew, to burn out than to fade away--and this applies no less to us than to these albums. We too, with Lee, will change: we will pass, like these albums, into history--until our permanency brings us back, with Plant, into the light. Somewhere. Somewhen.

9:00p – 10:30p

(Title)

Elizabeth Ruhl, Teresa McGeeney

10:30p – 12:00a

(Title)

Nicolle Walkling, Nick Anderson

12:00a – 1:45a

3 Men & a Bitty

Michael Clark, Lucy Lavelly, Joe Crouch, Michael Flattery

Wow, someone really gave us a show. The best and worst idea ever. This show is crazy-- just like two of its hosts, and covers everything from music, to sports, to current events, to pop culture, to whatever random crap that pops in our heads. Full of guest appearances, audience participation, trivia, and provocative questions -- who knows, maybe even an awesome prize or two -- 3 Men & a Bitty will offer the perfect break to studying, do people still do that? Enjoy the sounds of all genres, and maybe even some of the sounds of the hosts, which includes two Undertones, and two more of Notre Dame's most talented voices. Check us out! You only want more!

Thursday

\(Top\)

9:00a – 10:00a

Punk junk

Philip Zeiss

An hour devoted to playing timeless punk rock/pop-punk classics and also recognizing up-and-coming bands. material ranges from the clash and the sex pistols to green day and blink-182. This is a show for the Warped Tour crowd and punk geriatrics.

10:00a – 11:00a

the playlist

Mary McCauley

...just listen.

11:00a – 12:00p

Blood Brothers

Brad Monroe, Andrew Dillon

Witty banter and good tunes with a healthy discussion of campus and off-campus happenings. We will devote a segment of every show to play songs by campus musicians.

1:00p – 2:00p

We Live Together

John Lalor, David Bray, Fritz Schoenhut

Giving out huge tastes of legit tunes.

2:00p – 3:00p

Real Talk

Alex Pelan

An eclectic mix of music and banter that may or may not feature Tim Lang and Kris Trujillo.

3:00p – 4:00p

(Title)

DJs

4:00p – 5:00p

Great Gig in the Sky

Molly Bruno, Lindsey McMahon, Libby Koerbel

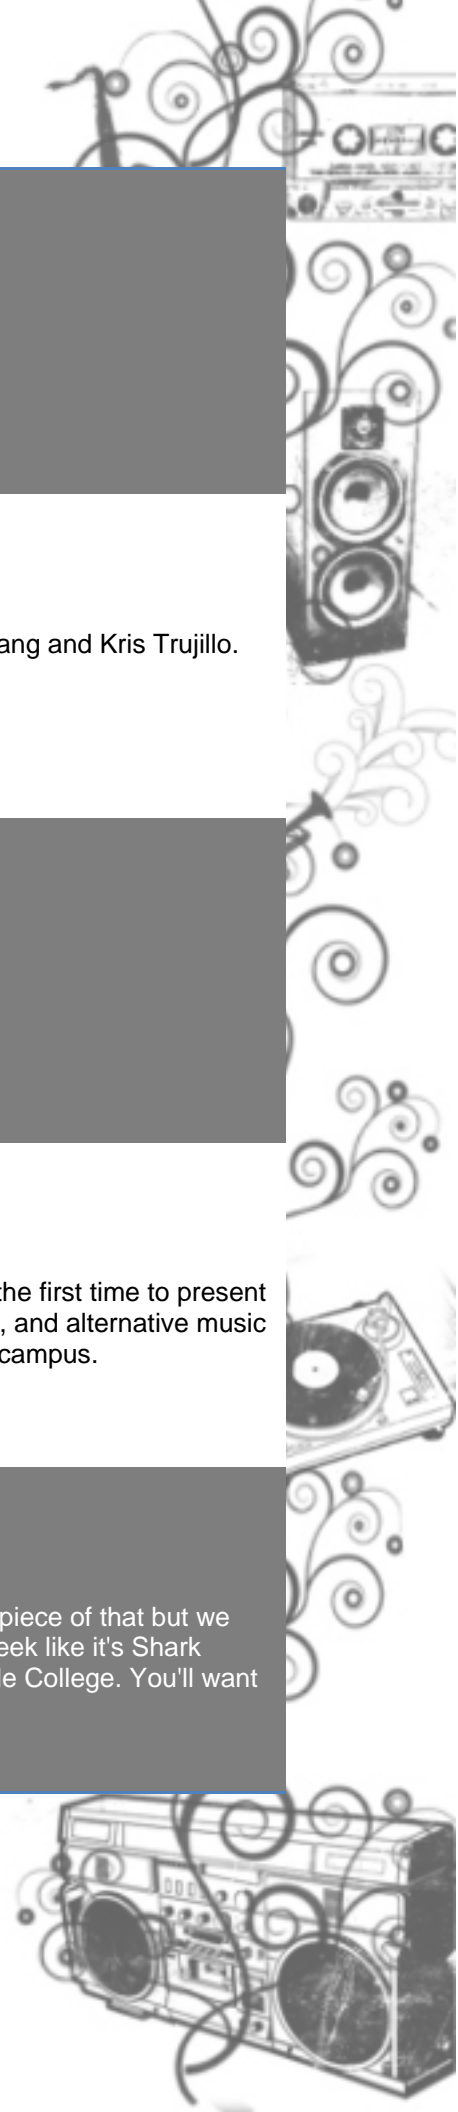

Molly Bruno, Lindsey McMahon, and Libby Koerbel come together for the first time to present the Great Gig in the Sky, a collection indie rock, techno, old school rap, and alternative music as well as discussion of the latest topics and events on and outside of campus.

5:00p – 6:30p

Six Sigma

Joe Maciuba, Molly Smith, Michelle Stein

Our muffin tops are all that, whole-grain, low fat, you know you want a piece of that but we just want to play super cool music for you. Not only do we live every week like it's Shark Week, but it will be more fun than TV theory at Kentucky Mountain Bible College. You'll want to go to there!!

6:30p – 7:00p

Partisan Patriots

Hogan Miller & Jimmy Long

This weekly political talk show covers the week's current events and happenings in the political arena. Segments include Hot Topic, RaceWatch, and everyone's favorite the Big Finish. Jimmy Long throws punches for the Liberal Left while Hogan Miller battles for the Republican Right.

7:00p – 7:30p

Sports with The Seige

CJ Kaltenbach

Send in your sports questions to The Seige, he'll answer as many questions as he can within the hour while talking about the hottest sports topics of the day/week!

7:30p – 9:00p

Off the Record

Patrick Carpenter, Dan McDonald, Jon Altenberger

If music be the food of love, "Off the Record" is a gluttonous feast the likes of which your ears have never experienced! Prepare to gorge yourself on the musical knowledge of DJ's Patrick Carpenter, Dan McDonald and Jon Altenberger as they lead you through a Dionysian celebration of modern music. May Zeus himself chuckle at our wild musical carousing!

9:00p – 10:30p

(Title)

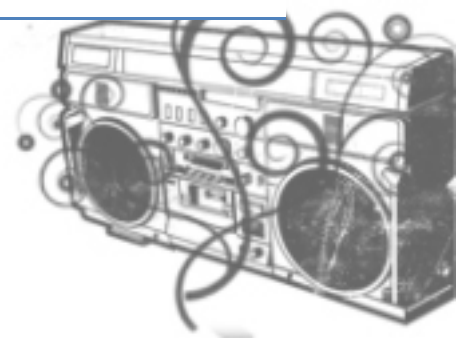

Mark Flanagan, John Walsh

10:30p – 12:00a

The Iron Ladies of Twee

Malcolm McCollum, Patrick Gamez, Jordan Rodgers, Jeff Fisher

We begin each show with a brief reading from Margaret Thatcher's The Downing Street Years (Hardcover) - Lady Thatcher's much-lauded 1995 memoirs of her eleven years as PM. This will be followed by a mix of metal, agit-punk, twee, motorik, classic indie, etc. intended to provoke in the listener imaginative connections between the music and the events recounted in the reading.

12:30a - 1:45a

Make Time for Texas

Christopher Damian, Audrey Vitter

As native Texans, we know it's strange to be in a place where Summer can be 50 degrees and 2-stepping is unheard of. So spend time with 2 Texans. We say "ya'll" and love our country music. Make time for Texas as we mix southern favorites with universal hits.

Friday

\(Top\)

9:00a - 10:00a

(Title)

DJs

10:00a - 11:00a

Hungover

Colin Rich

The preeminent purveyor of post-pubescent punk/pop psychedelia, I bring the best from both sides of the Atlantic, not to mention world renowned guest co-hosts. From The Clash in '76 to Radiohead in '97, specifically the late-80's Manchester and shoegazing scenes, expect myriad throwbacks to the UK.

11:00a - 12:00p

The Ultimate Lineup

Jean Namkung, Chris Tulisiak, Aidan Gillespie

Hey, if you want the best hour of indie, rock, and electronica, listen in!

12:00a - 1:00p

::Turquoise Love: The Reunion::

Michelle Nguyen, Danny McRae, Stephanie "Big Gunz/Staff Infection" Jazmines, Shannon Mathers

Turquoise Love makes it comeback as WVFI's best radio show on campus as all four original DJ's return to have ::Turquoise Love: The Reunion::---much better than Real World reunion shows, and almost as good as Flavor of Love reunion shows. An eclectic mix of hot and cold, tall and short, and medium rare to well done, Turquoise Love brings the best sounds of foreign indie rock paired ridiculously well with our personal classic faves. Note: Appearances by Kelly Hunt and the Turquoise Lovers to occur each show, preceded by Turquoise Lunch at NDH.

1:00a - 2:00p

A+M in the Morning

Andrew Kovach, Sean Mullins

A+M in the Morning' is a weekly classic rock show co-hosted by seniors Andrew Kovach and Sean Mullins which has been broadcast on WVFI since 2007. Andrew and Sean use their knowledge of classic rock and more current alternative forms of rock and roll to provide both the deep cuts and popular hits from many of the greatest acts of the '60s and '70s as well as what they consider to be the best of new bands from today. Devout listeners will also be familiarized with some of the features implemented by the shows' co-hosts over the years such as Springsteen at Seventeen, guest DJ visits, and themed programming at random times throughout the semester

2:00p - 3:00p

Male Musings

Nicholas Dan, Tim Gallo, Nick McFadden, John Siegel

Do you dig classic bands like Dashboard Confessional and Crazy Town?
Do you get anxious if you don't hear "Two Princes" once a week?
Do you wish John Siegel still went to Notre Dame?
If so, I have only one suggestion for you:
Muse with us
Male Musings (est. 2004)

3:00p - 4:00p

(Title)

DJs

4:00p - 5:00p

sara and sean are not robots

Sean Hoban, Sara Niemann

We like robots and orcas. Our musical tastes follows along these lines- on the one hand we play lots of fast beats with all sorts of technologic, stuff one of us heard at the discoteque in France, and on the other we play laid back tunes with banjo, harmonica and acoustic guitar, stuff from the back porch that the other one of us heard back home. Our other tastes fall along the lines of Indian food, crepes, french toast, berries, ice cream, and cookies from the SMC DH (oh ms. tina). But that's off the subject a little. Back to music, we're particularly partial to Janis Joplin, Ryan Adams, Dylan, and Melanie, (that's the second hand), and Elle, MIA, Justin, and the Chromatics (that's the first hand). We appreciate the dichotomies in our tastes and are all about variety. I suppose we also like long complicated sentences. We chat a lot on the radio, talking about books and whatnot, making judgments about modern society, planning trips to the farmers market, describing the beautiful states of Colorado and Kentucky to the appreciation of our listeners. Oh, we'll probably spin some elvis and beatles 45s (yes, we will, one of us has them), sing along with James Brown's "Watch me", dance the hokey pokey, talk about math and science, and someday soon we will graduate, so its your last chance to hear all this great stuff!

5:00p – 6:30p

The Drop

Joe Rampino, Mick Hammock

Party music. The best of electronica: electro, house, trance, new and old.

6:30p – 7:00p

The Matt Zak show

Matthew Zak

Have a take and don't suck! It's the motto of one of my favorite radio shows, "The Jungle" hosted by Jim Rome of ESPN. And if there is one thing I have learned in listening to the radio, it's that people want to be informed and entertained at the same time. And that is what I intend to make The Matt Zak Show. A show that you can put on for 15 minutes and hear some good music, a fresh sports take, a new movie review, or some thoughts on the next heated debate in the viewpoint columns of the Observer. I am junior here at Our Lady's University and over the past two years I have enjoyed putting on the WVFI web stream, and wanted to do it myself. So relax and click on that Listen Now button, you won't regret it.

7:00p – 7:30p

This is Our Sports-Talk-Show

Dan Masterton, Ross Goetz, Kyle Retzloff

Since the three of us don't live in the same room anymore, we needed to find a time when we could all come back together to talk, argue, and glorify sports. Tune in to hear our luminous commentaries, stat-dropping, and gentle mocking of one another.

7:30p – 9:00p

The Return of the Cosmic Army Rebellion

Patrick Duffey, Dave Lucas

In the beginning there was the word; and the word was of God, and the word was a show on WVFI called The Cosmic Army Rebellion. It was hosted by Dave Lucas and Patrick Duffey. That show was the best show. Several books have been written about its the bestness. On that show Dave and Patrick fostered a massive rebellion against the Robots who ruled the earth by playing music that blew their robot socks off. These are socks that robots wear. Not robotic socks. The rebellion was successful. It made all the humans very happy. But the robots were nonplussed. They decided they must get revenge. But this time they decided they would try to take over the world wide internets. Thus, the need for the return of the Cosmic Army rebellion. Join valiant hosts Dave and Patrick as they attempt to rise up against the new evil rulers of the internets, oh and they play music

9:00p - 10:30p

Little B and L-Pain Comedy Hour

Brandi Allen, Lora O'Shaughnessy

The Little B and L-Pain Comedy hour strives to answer the question, "Are we human or are we dancer?" It'll make you laugh, it won't make you cry, and we have guests that include inanimate objects. Oh yeah, and some groovy tune-age as well. Yee.

10:30p - 12:00a

(Title)

DJs

Saturday

\(Top\)

9:00a - 10:00a

B$teds in da Morning

Luke Stavole, Michael Eardley, Sam Werner

A show that enlightens listeners of all ages. We guarantee you will be smarter after listening to this show. The quality music selection is only interrupted by witty commentary on sports, popular culture, and current events. With music ranging from Miley Cyrus and Taylor Swift to Phil Collins and N.E.R.D., B$teds in da Morning will keep you screaming for more.

10:00a - 11:00a

Under a Rock

Alexandria Miller, Madelaine Ambrus

A wide range of music that can mostly be found... under a rock.

11:00a - 12:00p

Lovely Ladies

Katie Corr, Mary Pat

Laudible, loud, loquacious, and luscious, Lovely Ladies love listeners who love to listen to lyrical lilts while lecturing and locking horns over leading luring issues and weekly lessons.

5:00p – 6:00p

I've Made a Huge Mistake

Ryan Raffin

Originally this was going to be an all-Replacements and Elvis Costello show, but that idea isn't as good as it might first seem. Expect to hear those two a lot, along with actual new music. Though, most of that stuff still isn't as good as "Accidents Will Happen," or "Can't Hardly Wait."

6:00p – 7:00p

Agent Nine

Lora O'Shaughnessy, Kevin Li

Agent Nine is outside the government, beyond the police. The 21st century is when everything changes, and you have to be ready.

7:00p – 8:00p

Granola Jams

Jenny Dahm, Katie Valko

Hey, I heard you lost it last night. I thought you said you'd wait until marriage when your spouse inevitably forced personal musical musings upon you, but I definitely heard you jamming out to Miley and Usher. I don't care if you were "caught in the heat of the moment", I just can't believe you sold out and lost your granola- that wholesome earthy goodness with a crunch deep inside you- which began our friendship at that one Tegan and Sara concert. Never fear, Jenny and Katie's radio show is here to bring back the granola in your life and help you feel like you've been touched for the very first time. Our combined musical taste could be described as a "bubble bath with a back beat" but keep your pants on, we just like to call it delightfully fantastic music. So tune in every week for charmingly witty banter and a healthy dose of nutrient fortified, 100% organic granola jams*.

*May contain traces of wheat, egg, or dairy

8:00p – 9:00p

Djharpz and the Diggity

Djharpz, The Diggity

A mix of New/Current/Original music combined with loony banter and discussion about current day affairs and whatever else comes to mind. Add in a little comedy, charm, and some swag and you've got the Djharpz and the Diggity show.

9:00p – 10:30p

etc.

Courtney Cox, Caralyn Mezyk, Margaret Archibald, Helena Birdsell

An eclectic mix including the best of indie rock and whatever happens to be inspiring us at any given moment. Think 500 Days of Summer meets Animal Collective. Favorites include Los Campesinos!, of Montreal, Ra Ra Riot, She & Him, Dan Deacon, etc.

Sunday

\(Top\)

9:00a – 10:00a

Waiting For John Siegel...

Christina McClain, Jackie Bunick, Michelle Johnson

All the music that would make John Siegel cringe.

And no Vampire Weekend. Ever.

10:00a – 11:00a

The Mollcock Variety Hour

Josh Mollner, Matt Babcock

A sampling of a wide array of music, ranging from jazz to classic rock, combined with the witty banter of Josh Mollner and Matt Babcock, this show will attempt to give the listener a glimpse into the series of strange adventures that is Matt Babcock's life.

11:00a – 12:00p

Covers

Mike Magill

For my show, I would first play the original recording of a song by the original artist. I would then follow it with a cover of the song. After playing the songs, I would take about the songs and give my opinion on them. I could keep a running tab of which versions I feel are better, the originals or the covers. This formula would be repeated for as long as the show lasts. If a song had multiple covers, I could use the song for separate shows.

12:00p – 1:00p

The Drop

Joe Rampino, Mick Hammock

Party music. The best of electronica: electro, house, trance, new and old.

1:00p – 2:00p

Coffee and Joose in the Morning with Master Splinter and Cmdr. Viper

Jay "Viper" Burns, Rob "Splinter" Ryan

We're just a couple of wild and crazy guys talking about whatever pops into our heads.

2:00p – 3:00p

Erin Andrews' Personality

Marko Pesce, Brendan Herrmann, Terry Mahoney, Patrick Mines

A show with commentary on life and how to live it. Pop culture, sports, and love.

3:00p – 4:00p

Bound Variables

Daniel John Sportiello

"To be is to be the value of a bound variable." --W. V. O. Quine

Wittgenstein held that whatever can be said at all can be said clearly--and that which cannot be said must be passed over in silence. No doubt--and yet we spend so much of our lives attempting to speak the unspeakable, to grasp that which lies forever beyond us, indeed beyond space and time and the very categories of our cognition. Do we grasp at mere phantasms? Or does the abyss, when we with Nietzsche stare into it, stare back?

Bound Variables is a tribute to what lies beyond the bounds of language. Its music stands as memorial to the knowledge of beasts foregone--to knowledge of things without concepts, to knowledge of things in their full particularity. It is a tribute to the time, if ever there were such a time, before we were caught with Mitchell in the devil's bargain, burdened with the awful knowledge of good and evil. It is a tribute to the time when we could still find it within ourselves to stop doing philosophy and simply be.

Quine held that to be is to be the value of a bound variable. No doubt--but the irony is that we will ever strain against these bonds, strain against the cold chains of logic, even though we forged them ourselves. For we are no more content with the knowledge of men than we were with the knowledge of beasts. Man is a rope, Nietzsche held, a rope between beast and overman--and what is great in man is that he is a bridge and not an end. If this is so--if the knowledge of men, the knowledge of good and evil, is but a means to our final end--then the music of Bound Variables is a tribute not just to what has come before but also to what will come after.

Those worthy of love, Nietzsche held, are those who cross over. May we live to see that day--the day when we transcend the knowledge of men, when we pass beyond concepts and the chains of logic fall away. May love, as Townsend prayed, reign over all of us before the end.

4:00p – 5:00p

Bodies Made for Radio

Greg Robinson; Sean Grammel

45% The Colbert Report, 45% Hannity and Colmes, 10% Talk Sex with Sue Johansen

5:00p – 6:00p

The Sounds of Essen

Alicia Swaim, Kasey Coonan

When it comes to Alicia & Kasey, there ain't no messin' with Essen. Their show is inspired by a club that they visited in Essen, Germany. It was a club unlike anyone could imagine. Put 200 people in a room the size of two small classrooms. Add strobes, light shows, a bar, and a DJ. The music choice was exceptional. They played anything from Electronica to Techno and Indie to British Pop, plus, of course, the best remixes. You may ask, "Well, what do these girls even play? Girls don't know anything about music." On the contrary. We know what's up. When it comes to music taste, we don't mess around. We tell you like it is and we play what we want. I can't give you what we listen to in a few words, because our iTunes consists of a smorgasbord of artists, sounds, and genres. We like what we listen to. We like what we play. You should too. Listen in, give it a chance, and enjoy. :)

6:00p – 7:00p

Second and Short

Andrew Kovach, Jimi Lucas

Second and Short, broadcast on WVFI since 2008, is a half hour sports show co-hosted by seniors Andrew Kovach and Jimi Lucas. Borrowing its title from the down and yardage in a football game where "anything can happen," Andrew and Jimi can discuss a wide variety of events and stories in the sports world. The co-hosts will give a fair assessment of Notre Dame athletics from the student's perspective while also giving their takes on what is going on in the rest of the sports world.

7:00p – 8:00p

(Title)

Matt Meckes, Jack Manfred, John Saulitis, Nick Power

8:00p – 9:00p

(Title)

Gwen Rugg, Will Haley, Nick Berlin

9:00p – 10:30p

(Title)

Beth Nieman, Santiago Garces

10:30p – 12:00a

Dunno yet...

Casey Lupetin, Mary Myers

We're back from Italia and ready for some fun in the studio. With tastes ranging from calm and quiet to rocking electronics, our eclectic playlists will keep listeners guessing. And with an emphasis on requests from our faithful audience, we'll try to play anything and everything you throw our way. So...Va Bene!

12:00a – 1:45p

Wasted Space

Emily Craven

Do you, listener, like astounding varieties of off-beat music? Welcome to Wasted Space. Playing something different every week. Now featuring: grunge, ambient electronica, thrash metal, sitar music, the Grateful Dead, and everything in between.

\(Top\)

