THIS IS NOTRE DAME

2019-20
The University of Notre Dame was founded in November 1842 by Rev. Edward F. Sorin, C.S.C., a priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross, a French missionary order. It is located adjacent to South Bend, Indiana, the center of a metropolitan area with a population of more than 300,000. Chartered by the state of Indiana in 1844, the University was governed by the Holy Cross priests until 1967, when governance was transferred to a two-tiered, mixed board of lay and religious trustees and fellows.

Notre Dame has grown from the vision of Father Sorin, who sought to establish a great Catholic university in America, and has remained faithful to both its religious and intellectual traditions. Over the years, Notre Dame has been a place where the Catholic Church could do its thinking. The first national study of Catholic elementary and secondary education was done at Notre Dame, as was the most extensive study of Catholic parish life and a landmark historical study of the Hispanic Catholic community in the United States.

One of America’s leading undergraduate teaching institutions, Notre Dame also has been at the forefront in research and scholarship. The aerodynamics of glider flight, the transmission of wireless messages, and the formulae for synthetic rubber were pioneered at the University. Today researchers are achieving breakthroughs in astrophysics, radiation chemistry, environmental sciences, tropical disease transmission, peace studies, cancer, robotics, and nanoelectronics.
Notre Dame always has been heavily residential, with about four in five undergraduates living on campus. Students come to Notre Dame to learn not only how to think but also how to live, and often the experiences alumni carry from residence hall communities at Notre Dame remain vivid over a lifetime. The University always has attracted scholars who are interested in teaching and scholarship, men and women who know that a Notre Dame education is more than what is taught in classrooms and laboratories.

Notre Dame has a unique spirit. It is traditional, yet open to change. It is dedicated to religious belief no less than to scientific knowledge. It has always stood for values in a world of facts. It has kept faith with Father Sorin’s vision.

Opening its doors in Jenkins and Nanovic Halls in August 2017, the Donald R. Keough School of Global Affairs advances Notre Dame’s mission through its focus on integral human development—a holistic model for human flourishing and human dignity articulated in Catholic social thought and in numerous other traditions. The Keough School educates and trains students for skilled, effective, and ethical leadership in government, nongovernmental and civil society organizations, and the private sector. A new office in Washington, D.C., enables the school to expand its presence in the global policy arena.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Established in 1918, the Graduate School is composed of four divisions (engineering, humanities, science, and social sciences) and the Keough School of Global Affairs. It embraces 31 doctoral programs, 14 terminal master’s degree programs and eight professional master’s degree programs in and among 34 University departments, institutes, and programs. Of the approximately 2,400 degree-seeking students, 98 percent are full-time, 69 percent are pursuing a doctorate, 42 percent are women, and 29 percent are international students. Among U.S. students, 18 percent are from underrepresented groups. Prestigious multi-year fellowships are awarded to the top 10 percent of each incoming class. Approximately 97 percent of students in the Graduate School—both doctoral and non-professional master’s—receive full-tuition scholarships. Ninety-seven percent of recent graduates report that their current job aligns with their career goals. > graduateschool.nd.edu

GRADUATE BUSINESS PROGRAMS

The mission of the Mendoza College of Business is to provide academically excellent degree programs centered on the vision of business as a powerful force for good in society. The college offers 11 graduate business degrees: Notre Dame MBA, Executive MBA, Executive MBA-Chicago, Master of Science in Accountancy, Master of Science in Business Analytics, Master of Science in Business Analytics-Chicago, Master of Science in Finance-Chicago, Master of Science in Management, Master of Nonprofit Administration, Executive Master of Nonprofit Administration and the dual-degree Notre Dame MBA/Master of Science in Business Analytics. Mendoza also offers custom and open enrollment programs in executive education and nonprofit administration. > mendoza.nd.edu

THE LAW SCHOOL

Notre Dame Law School offers eight programs of study in areas such as intellectual property, business law, environmental law, and public policy. The school’s international curriculum includes Notre Dame London Law Program as well as student exchange programs in China, Chile, Ireland, Switzerland, and Italy. Its extensive externship offerings include programs in the school’s Chicago and Washington, D.C., facilities. The Law School offers several dual degrees, including a J.D./MBA, J.D./M.A. in English, and J.D./Master of Engineering. Post-J.D. programs include an LL.M. that may be pursued either in South Bend or in London, and an LL.M. and a J.S.D. in international human rights law. > law.nd.edu

Twenty-five Notre Dame faculty members, including current President Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., have been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the nation’s leading learned academy.

Faculty in the College of Arts and Letters have earned 65 fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities since 1999, more than for any other university in the nation over that time.

Notre Dame established the first programs in law, engineering, and architecture at an American Catholic institution of higher learning.

Notre Dame’s Medieval Institute was the first in the United States, and the University also founded the first publication series dedicated specifically to medieval topics.

Notre Dame is rated among the nation’s top 25 institutions of higher learning in surveys conducted by U.S. News & World Report, Forbes, Niche, and others.

Notre Dame has been identified as one of the top 10 collegiate workplaces in the country in a survey by the Chronicle of Higher Education, the leading resource for higher education news and information.

The Mendoza College of Business ranks fifth nationally for its undergraduate program and No. 29 for its MBA program in the 2018 Poets & Quants listing of top business schools in the country.

Faculty in the College of Arts and Letters have earned 65 fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities since 1999, more than for any other university in the nation over that time.

STUDENT LIFE
Notre Dame is one of a handful of truly international universities, with a student body drawn from all 50 states and more than 1,500 international students from over 100 countries. About 78 percent of the undergraduates and 10 percent of advanced students live on campus, and more than 80 percent are active in service learning and community volunteer activities. There are no social fraternities or sororities at Notre Dame—the residence halls are the focus of social, religious, and intramural athletic activities.

ACHIEVEMENTS
In laboratories, studios, theaters, libraries, and institutes on campus and around the world, Notre Dame students are engaged in a wide array of research, scholarly, and creative projects. They are selected to the leading academic honor societies and have received such prestigious awards as Rhodes, Fulbright, Marshall, and Truman scholarships and fellowships from the Goldwater, Mellon, and National Science foundations.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES
Social, cultural, intellectual, recreational, and governance programs are coordinated and sponsored by more than 500 recognized student clubs and organizations. All undergraduate student organizations fall under the umbrella of the Student Union Board. A few highlighted undergraduate groups are the Hall Presidents’ Council, class councils, Student Union Board, Club Coordination Council, and Student Government. The major graduate organizations are Graduate Student Union, Student Bar Association, Master’s of Science in Accountancy Association, and the MBA Association.

STUDY ABROAD OPPORTUNITIES
Notre Dame is No. 2 in the nation for study abroad participation. Through Notre Dame International, 73.7 percent of Notre Dame undergraduates study abroad for academic credit in the following countries:

Australia  Germany  Kenya  South Africa
Brazil  Greece  Mexico  South Korea
Chile  India  Morocco  Spain
China  Ireland  Poland  Switzerland
Denmark  Israel  Russia  United Kingdom
Ecuador  Italy  Rwanda
Ethiopia  Japan  Senegal
France  Jordan  Singapore

GLOBAL NETWORK
Notre Dame’s network of 11 Global Gateways and Centers aims to extend the global reach of the University’s research, scholarship, and programs; enhance students’ international education and experience; and provide a means for meaningful academic, cultural, and civic engagement.

Global Gateways and Centers are located in:
Beijing, Dublin, Hong Kong, Jerusalem, Kylemore Abbey (western Ireland), London, Mexico City, Mumbai, Rome, Santiago, and São Paulo.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGIES

The Office of Information Technologies (OIT) develops innovative solutions and provides reliable technology services in support of Notre Dame’s students, faculty, and staff. OIT services range from enhancing the classroom experience through technology to managing the campus technology infrastructure, from supporting research activities to providing solutions that enable the administrative campus teams. > oit.nd.edu

HESBURGH LIBRARIES

The Hesburgh Libraries is a diverse system featuring the flagship Hesburgh Library, which houses four centers and specialty libraries, along with eight branch libraries and specialty centers located throughout the Notre Dame campus. The Libraries are home to nearly 200 faculty and staff with on-site visits from over 1 million patrons annually. On-site and online visitors have access to more than 3.5 million print volumes and nearly 3.5 million electronic volumes.

In an effort to further its core mission of "connecting people to knowledge," the Libraries offer a vast array of expertise, services, resources, and spaces to ensure the academic success of the campus community. Subject, digital, and academic outreach librarians offer research assistance and are available face-to-face, by email, phone, and chat. > library.nd.edu

NOTRE DAME PRESS

The University of Notre Dame Press is the largest Catholic university press in the world and is a scholarly publisher of distinguished books in a number of academic disciplines and in areas of interest to general readers. The Press publishes approximately 50 print and digital books annually and maintains a robust backlist in print.

The Press is a publishing partner with several University departments, programs, and institutes, and has recently published books by notable intellectuals including Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, Tomáš Halík, and Julián Carrón, among others. Through those efforts, UNDP extends the reach and reputation of the University while fulfilling its mission to advance intellectual exploration and knowledge. > undpress.nd.edu
